WHAT IS NEEDED MOST IN PERRYSBURG?

What is needed most in Perryburg? Places for the amusement and entertainment of our people.

Our municipal band should be encouraged and subsidized by our Chamber of Commerce. It should furnish music both Winter and Summer.

A literary society—like the New Century Club, but not so exclusive—rather, a municipal affair—for all the people by all the people.

We have many, many professional men and women who could furnish instruction and entertainment in our town hall to all of our people in the winter months.

Another query: Is it conducive for better citizenship in a town when the State laws regarding gambling for money are observed or broken? Many of our thinking people are open to conviction on such momentous subjects.

One more question: Of late years our century old shade trees have been tampered with. The theory "to let well enough alone" has been dropped and an experimental surgery has been practiced on these venerable and innocent denizens of the burg. They wanted to improve on nature as they are improving on the physical welfare of the male portion of Europe. Now, it is a principal in nature that nature will do well if not interfered with in its laws.

Nothing is superfluous in nature. Everything has a purpose in nature. Only diseased and broken organs or parts of a body natural are to be eliminated.

If in vegetation a tree is thriving with its many branches, it is because these branches and leaves are necessary for its welfare. Trees inhale and exhale and are fertilized by means of their leaves and shoots. Cut one-half of its branches and one-half of its life is gone and very soon it will succumb to its fate entirely.

If you wish to see ruins, "look round about."

Briefly: Anything that will bring all the people of the town together and make them feel glad they are living here with their neighbors.

The churches are small and each denomination cannot properly provide for these things. Besides, let people worship the Almighty according to the dictates of their consciences in their respective churches, but let us cultivate the Christian ideal of the brotherhood of men and not discriminate against any of our fellow citizens on account of their beliefs. An American common-wealth knows only citizenship and spurns sectarian hatred.

It matters not about the identity of "Observer," but it matters a great deal to decide calmly without any prejudices whether the things pointed out are the truth or not.

AN AFTERMATH.

Five years ago the thing the "Burg" needed most was a Civic Association. It has got one now of which it should feel proud, and its promoters deserve credit from the community.

They have been helpful to the town and its citizens should appreciate their work by helping them.

But it cannot be a static body—rather become a dynamic force for the weal of the commonwealth. The writer's suggestions have been actuated with the sincerest motives for the welfare of the people. He has no financial interest to promote.

However, if his opinions are not correct, he will readily make his bow herewith and retire and leave it to wiser heads to make suggestions as to what is most needed to keep our boys at home, to amuse themselves.

A journal is a public forum for all the people. It seems strange, therefore, that only some peoples' opinions or theories should be advocated without any questioning—a little space now and then for the public weal—only that and nothing more.

If this town be all self-sufficient, very well. If it need nothing by way of recreation for its people, "Observer" will not suffer, for he can well claim self-sufficiency for himself.

Still "Observer" is aware that he is voicing the sentiments of the bulk of the population. Many parents would rather have their boys and girls amuse themselves in town than go elsewhere for amusement.

To descend to personalities is acknowledging defeat in the pursuit of the true, the good and the beautiful.

To muzzle the editor of a journal with threats is to deprive a free people of its greatest opportunity for self development.

To grow angry and seek revenge with one who does not agree with our opinions, is a relic of barbarism. It is not modern culture in a democratic country. In a public debate the honorable judge and the interested public listen to both sides.

"Whatever is the greatest good for the greatest number of people, is that which is needed most in any town." It should be the pleasure as well as the duty of the leading citizens to procure whatever is most needed in a town.

Colds and Croup in Children.

Many people rely upon Chamberlain's Cough Remedy implicitly in cases of colds and croup, and it never disappoints them. Mrs. E. H. Thomas, Logansport, Ind., writes: "I have found Chamberlain's Cough Remedy to be the best medicine for colds and croup I have ever used, and never tire of recommending it to my neighbors and friends. I have always given it to my children when suffering from croup, and it has never failed to give them prompt relief." For sale by all dealers.

—Mr. and Mrs. F. E. Wells, Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Schaller and family, Mr. and Mrs. Chris Hahn and son, Mr. and Mrs. David Hahn and family, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Hahn and daughter, spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Harley Wells on Indiana avenue.

The delightful weather of last Sunday brought out many autos that had been put up for the winter. The temptation to get out and enjoy the beautiful day was too great to be resisted and hundreds of machines toured around the belt.

For earache, toothache, pains, burns, scalds, sore throat, try Dr. Thomas' Eucletic Oil, a splendid remedy for emergencies.

It was a starry night in June,

The air was soft and still;

And in the best of spirits

I started to fire the kiln;

And as I shoveled in the coal

And took the clinkers out,

My mind got started in the way

Of "how man had come about."

God made the world and then made

man;

Of course, that is not a shock;

But if you look the records up;

Man was not made of rock.

They were not up to carving rock,

So long before the flood.

But if they were, rock would not work

Up into bones and blood.

I know man was not made of wood,

For to me it still appears

That a man made of any kind

Would rot in twenty years.

I know they never then used what

We now term as shale,

For if they did his face would look

So scaly, rough and pale.

But I made sure that God made man,

And made him out of clay;

He took His time to every part,

And did not think of pay.

And so experience teaches us

That rock and wood are out of style,

And Clay alone is the only thing

That will make a Brick or Tile.
